

Mahesh Madkholkar

Dear Members, With immense pride and gratitude I address you after yet another vibrant and activity-packed couple of months at The Goods & Services Tax Practitioners' Association of Maharashtra (GSTPAM). Let us take a moment to reflect on the monumental efforts, achievements, and initiatives that have strengthened our community and enriched our Association's legacy. Celebrating Diwali with Joy and Purpose This year, Diwali brought an unparalleled sense of joy as we had the luxury of four clear days to celebrate in the festivities. Adding to the celebrations, the extension of the income tax return filing deadline to November 15, 2024, allowed not only our members but also our dedicated staff to embrace the festival in its truest essence. Such moments of balance between professional duties and personal joy underline the spirit of GSTPAM, which always strives to harmonize the professional with the personal. ....
