

Aalok Mehta

Dear All As I sit down to write my last communication with you as the President of the Association, I have only one feeling - a feeling of utmost satisfaction. I have thoroughly enjoyed the privilege of communicating with you. Your response, feedback and critique have motivated me to air my views freely and frankly. What a delight it has been to talk to you all through this page and receive your responses. For every President, his year at GSTPAM is tight, pressing, exciting, challenging, exhilarating and satisfying. It was an opportunity to stretch my boundaries, to learn, share and grow. To be sharing this time with all of you and lead its leading light – The Goods and Services Practitioners' Association of Maharashtra – is a special honour and privilege! The highlights of the year are enumerated in the 71st Annual Report uploaded on www.GSTPAM.org. I hope you will take a look. Key Achievement The GSTPAM Referencer was released with a Theme “Azadi.....
